

Do I need to have a web site to use a Virtual Tour?

Not necessarily but it is highly recommended. With over 80% of potential buyers starting their search on line these days you want to make it as easy as possible for them to find your property. Once they do, you have a professional looking and informative site to make them call you for a showing.